

There is Still Time to Get a Flu Shot

Flu vaccine is available and there is still time for people to get vaccinated.

- In Washington, flu season typically peaks in February or March.
- Flu shots are still effective in January or later.

For more information about flu prevention, visit: www.doh.wa.gov and click "Flu News".

